Dear Dad,

I got Mildred's letter, telling about Grandma today. I wish I could be there now. I didn't realize when I left home that I might not see her again. But I know that she is better off now.

Mildred told me that Clarence and Aunt Dora and the rest of the folks were there. Sure would like to see them. If it wasn't so hard to get an emergency furlough I would come home.

Hope everybody there is well -
Tell Alice Hello and I have some presents for her - will send them next month.

Love,
John
