Dear Mama,

I had my operation Monday.
Everything is going O.K. I should be up in ten days or less.
I'm writing this in bed of course - hope you can make it out.

The only thing I can kick about is nothing to eat.
The last good meal I had was Sunday night. Have been on liquids since then. I think they give me something solid tomorrow morning.

There's nothing much here to write about - nothing interesting.

Hope everybody there is well.

I expect to leave ~~here~~ the hospital and go over to separation during the first part of April. So I'll be a civilian before long. Write soon.
Tell one of the boys to write.

Love,

Russell
