Dear Dad:

Just finished my lunch and the big shots are all out so I'll write you a note. Meant to mention in my letter that I got a raise in pay again but forgot it. It wasn't an individual raise - everybody got one. All salaried personnel received an increase of 6% effective October 1st, with a minimum of $17.50 monthly. I got the minimum of $17.50, because 6% didn't quite reach that figure. My increase was from $260.00 to $277.50, and they still don't deduct anything for income tax. Sure hope they're not making a mistake. Wouldn't you think that with that much money I could meet expenses and have some left? Not me, though. Here are some of my monthly bills, excepting groceries---

Gas & Electric -	$ 9.00	- Approx.
May Stern Furniture	22.00
Loan for Down Pmt...	15.00
House payment....	52.33
Telephone...	4.60
Shillito's ...	10.00

Should be on my feet pretty well though in about 20 months, after which I hope I can help Dorothy on the dentist bill for your teeth. Sure am happy to learn you are finally getting something done. I know you are going to feel much better.

Are you & Mom feeling OK now --- when are you comin' up?

Love,

Bill
