Dear Walter.-

Your letter written
Jan. 30th reached me the day
I came down.

And you started to begin
to get home sick did you?
Well I guess that wouldn't be very hard to do. Mustn't though for just think, I t.
won't be long now till you
"come marching home".

Some weeks ago I told you that unless something unusual happened I would always start a letter in ita way every week. Well, "something unusual" did happen last week and I failed to get the letter off.

Lola and Elaa spent the week with us some time. believe me! You can imagine better than I can write. He certainly did enjoy the time.

At last, I can't begin to reply to what you write about your experiences previous to the Armistice. It was awful, awful. But you will always be thankful & proud that you did your bit. We hope there will never be another such time.

Put that memory with your souvenirs in "your old kit bag" till you get back.

Only a few of your letters have reached me so I only know a small part of your experiences on the trip through Germany. I'm anxiously waiting till you get back to hear you tell about the times you have had.

You asked about a picture. Just now I haven't any. If I go home by Rockwood I will get some made if not. I want to go to Harinar soon, and if I have the pictures made will send you one.

I have some idea how you felt about not getting my letters.
I have felt a little bit that way
myself the last month.

I don't see how my poor scribbling
can cheer you and help the time to pass but will write just the same. Maybe you will have the good luck to start this way soon.
I'm hoping so any way.

With best wishes

your friend

Stella
